

Overexposed

This Beautiful Mess

i am falling into you.
it's breaking me in two.
the old in me is taking over.
it's taking me over.
all my promises fall to the floor.
they leave me exposed.
let me explode.
right before your eyes i lose my innocence.
there inside your arms i find myself again.
without pretensions.
you are falling into me.
i'm half the man i used to be.
it's tearing me apart.
the old in me is breaking open.
it's breaking me open.
all my trespasses will come to light.
leave me alone
