

The Turnip

This Is the Kit

There was a time
And there was a place
When we were one
And it was so still
And it was so dark
And the place was my tum

And there came a time
And there came a place
When the bun was well done
We had waited the time
We had counted it out
We had done all the sums

So they tried to coax
With the needles and smoke
And they stuck in the pins
And they burned my toe
And the moon was pink
And then the moon turned dark
And you had started to start
You had started to start
You decided to start
And the moon was dark

Oh, and your power!
Oh, where should I start?
Start to explain
How lucky we are
Cause he stayed with me
And he stayed with you
Holding on all the time
And he stayed awake
And he didn't sleep
And the next day we cried

Cause the turnip had turned
Oh the turnip turned
Oh the turnip had turned

Oh the turnip had turned
Oh the turnip turned
