

I Don't Love You Like I Want To

This Wild Life

It's okay to feel afraid
It's okay to feel alone
I just hoped
It wouldn't be so long
It's okay to feel, feel broken
It's okay, I'm fractured too
We'd make a beautiful mosaic
With some duct tape and some glue

But I don't love you like I want to
But I don't love you like I want to

It's okay to feel afraid
It's okay to feel alone
I just hoped
It wouldn't be so long
It's okay to feel, feel broken
It's okay, I'm fractured too
We'd make a beautiful mosaic
With some duct tape and some glue

But I don't love you like I want to
But I don't love you like I want to

Oh, but nothing scares me more than to bring a child
Into a broken world with a broken girl inside
Follow footsteps one by one to raise a perfect broken son
With addictive traits and too much taste for blood

So I run
So I run

It's okay to feel afraid
It's okay to feel alone
I just hoped, I just hoped, I just hoped
It wouldn't be so long
