

Last Call For The Heavy Hearts

This Wild Life

Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts
Last time that I fall apart
Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts
Last time that I fall apart

I can't help but wonder how I know your number
Your birthday and your favorite song
Someone that I loved before but I don't know you anymore
You sleep with the TV on, hoping that your dreams will drown
I wonder if you're better now
Someone that I loved before but I don't know you anymore

'Cause you're not the same, I know things have changed
I still feel your weight, you're still in my veins
Is there a love without pain?

Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts
Last time that I fall apart
Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts
Last time that I fall apart

Late nights in the kitchen, love notes on the fridge and I miss the way you missed me then
Someone that I loved before but I don't know you anymore
Counting reasons not to leave, somehow you're just counting sheep
I wonder how you even sleep
Someone that I loved before but I don't know you anymore

'Cause you're not the same, I know things have changed
I still feel your weight, you're still in my veins
Is there a love without pain?

Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts
Last time that I fall apart
Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts
Last time that I fall apart

And oh, I was running in circles searching for you
Found you under the vultures, couldn't recognize you
'Cause you're not the same, and I know things have changed
But I still miss the way, I'm gonna miss the pain

Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts

Last time that I fall apart
Highest of highs, lowest of lows
Heavier load than I can hold, yeah
Last call for the heavy hearts
Last time that I fall apart
