

No More Waiting

This Wild Life

You'll never see my eyes again
You'll never have another friend
Unless they're pictured on a screen
Unless you lie to them like me
You beg beg begged me to wait
But you wouldn't do the same

No more waiting, I think that I've been too patient
Maybe I just need the pavement, maybe I should leave
Fuck your feelings, I don't need to hear your reasons
Maybe you should take the beating, get some therapy

I never want to say goodbye
I would make it work if you would try
But you just lie through crooked teeth
Live with trauma from your teens
You beg beg begged me to wait
But you wouldn't do the same

No more waiting, I think that I've been too patient
Maybe I just need the pavement, maybe I should leave
Fuck your feelings, I don't need to hear your reasons
Maybe you should take the beating, get some therapy

I'm not wishing you the worst
I'm not hoping that you hurt
I just want you to keep your fucking word
And leave me alone like you said you would

No more waiting, I think that I've been too patient
Maybe I just need the pavement, maybe I should leave
Fuck your feelings, I don't need to hear your reasons
Maybe you should take the beating, get some therapy