

Butterflies

Thomas Headon

Forgotten what I used to be
But I think I'm happier now
Somehow
Though I'm still far from home
I'm making a new one just on my own
And
Think I've been thinking too much
About what I miss and the things that I've lost
But
Now if I'm down on my luck
It's only a phone call to get back up
But
Maybe I'm better this way
I've never replaced all the things you'd say
But
Sometimes I'm feeling the same
I wish I could see someone else's face
So
When you're just stuck on my mind
I picture you once and then move on and smile
But
Lately, it's harder to find
Will this ever be alright?

I still get butterflies
When you're inside my mind
And I only wonder if you get the same
Or if it's only mine
'Cause I still get butterflies
Almost all of the time
But I think it's alright
'Cause you love butterflies
Right?

Sometimes I see a reminder again
I try not to dwell but it's hard when you miss them
And yeah, I know that will fade
It hurts to think I just don't know the date
And
When I can finally be fine
And not have you round in my head or my life
I
Won't try to change it or cry
I'll remember of the time

I still get butterflies
When you're inside my mind
And I only wonder if you get the same
Or if it's only mine
Right?

Butterflies
Butterflies

You love butterflies
Right?
Butterflies
Butterflies

Though I could be wrong
It feels so good to believe
And though I'm not in love
I wish you'd fly to me
