

Middle Name

Thomston

I've been cold, shivering for ages now
You're a moon reflecting sunlight
Not bright enough but I still want it, yeah-yeah
And you're leaving in the morning

So, will I think about you when you're gone?
Will you run around my head for long?
Will I leave my mark on your state of mind,
Leave you wondering the state of mine?
Will time have me forgetting this,
Or will we share in regretting this?
Baby, been feeling empty lately...

So kiss me like it's real
Kiss me like you know my middle name
'Cause I just wanna feel
Anything, anything
So kiss me like it's real
Kiss me like you know my middle name
'Cause I just wanna feel
Anything, anything

So if I'm hanging back, oh-oh
It's 'cause I'm scared to fall into you
No one told me that the more you love, the more you lose
The more it takes to pull together, nah-nah

So, will I think about you when you're gone?
Will you run around my head for long?
Will I leave my mark on your state of mind,
Leave you wondering the state of mine?
Will time have me forgetting this,
Or will we share in regretting this?
Baby, been feeling empty lately...

So kiss me like it's real
Kiss me like you know my middle name
'Cause I just wanna feel
Anything, anything
So kiss me like it's real
Kiss me like you know my middle name
'Cause I just wanna feel
Anything, anything

We got the menial shit out of the way
But touching on you, I imagine asking "How was your day?"
My hands in your hair, you could be brunette
But I do not know you yet, you're them
Minus the heartbreak, and the baggage, and the history
I'm him, minus the headaches, and the damage, and the distance
So now, I keep wondering if you will miss me
Oh, baby, just kiss me like...
Whoa

So kiss me like it's real
Kiss me like you know my middle name
'Cause I just wanna feel

Anything, anything
So kiss me like it's real
Kiss me like you know my middle name
'Cause I just wanna feel
Anything, anything
