

Outcast

Thornhill

Walk around like you know me
Eyes staring back
Trying to control me
Shifting glance between those walls
Competitions failure will get the best of me

Chase me into the sky
Let me be
Chase me

Chase me forever in minds eye
I can do this all day

How long can you last
Tracing my footsteps
All the way back home
How long will it take
To replace what you did to me

No time for sympathy
No time for goodbyes
I said my farewells to all your fucking lies
No time for sympathy
No time for goodbyes
I won't apologise
You know me, you know me

I live my life pursuing the idea
That everything I've worked for has fucking disappeared

Hands together for no one
Pray to me you still have days to come

Look behind you as you walk home
Because the piece of shit like you won't build their house from stone
