

Silver Swarm

Thornhill

I'm blessed with it

A silver swarm that will devour
All of those words that I uncover in you
Vexing my head your taking over
I wanted too much, you are too much
So lend me your touch of fate

'Cause I'm blessed with it

Too far
I-I fear this moment with you
Malignant core
Cry, or just atone for the truth?
I fled your touch
Why do you keep me this close?
You won't notice it

Makes it easy for you, baby
'Cause your eyes match your lies
Made it so hard to understand
His eyes match your lies
Yeah, you're evil and you made me
Don't you make it look easy

Let me disarm that fleeting power
With all of the words that I uncover in you
Vexing my head you're taking over but I needed too much, too much
So lend me your touch of fate

'Cause I'm blessed with it

Too far
I-I fear the moment with you
Malignant core
Cry, or just atone for the truth?
I fled your touch
Why do you keep me this close?
You won't notice it (You won't notice it)
I won't notice it

Don't you make it look easy
Say you want me to fight
Through the crowd in the night
All my pores screaming run baby take my hand
In the back room ignite
All my fears come to life
All my pores screaming run
Full of rage drown my life out
Ah, ah
Ah, ah
Ah, ah

'Cause I'm blessed with it

It's so easy for you, baby
'Cause your eyes match your lies

Made it so hard to understand
His eyes match your lies
Yeah, you're evil and you made me

Don't you make it look easy
