

Tongues

Thornhill

You lead me astray, far
You lead me like you want, you want more

Why do you haunt my skin and bone?
I've been torn to pieces
Yet I still won't give it up
Don't scream believe me
My second mode will tell me why

I'm turning your tongue in two
Over my heart I don't need you to stay
But you drive your fingernails down the walls

I won't give it to em

Don't flee
Take me to em

Your lips like the fire
Choose your mind
Slips back to conspire

So tell me why I'm turning your tongue in two
Over my heart I don't need you to stay
But you drive your fingernails down the walls

You are asking me upon your sword
Will I fall
Can't bare to watch you make your escape
And howl out

You lead me astray, far
You lead me like you want more
