

Be You

Those Damn Crows

We have our reasons
We have a choice
It's world's illusion to give in
We wait for an answer
We wait for a sign
Well I'm done with the waiting
My only limit is time

You've gotta fight, to be you
You've got the right, to be you
In a world that thrives on fear and loathing
Make a stand don't let them silence you
I wouldn't like to be you
Don't tell me who I am

Beautifully broken
Our fractured minds
Don't let them fool you, to fit in
A one-way ticket, a one-way ride
Well I'm done with the waiting
My only limit is time

You've gotta fight, to be you
You've got the right, to be you
In a world that thrives on fear and loathing
Make a stand don't let them silence you
I wouldn't like to be you
Don't tell me who I am

Free your mind, you free yourself

Can't you see the life you've chosen
It's not you, it's the world that's broken
Live your life by the words we've spoken
Free to be you, freedom through emotion

You've gotta fight, to be you
You've got the right, to be you
In a world that thrives on fear and loathing
Make a stand don't let them silence you
I wouldn't like to be you
I wouldn't like to be you
