

A Bone To Pick

Those Poor Bastards

I've got a bone to pick, with your husband don't think he'll live through it, they never do

I'll take him down to the river I'll weigh him down with stones don't mean to scare you, sister
just thought you should know
just thought you should know