

Radio Country

Those Poor Bastards

Radio Country, that sodomizin' beast
Radio Country's been killin' me

They take hurtin' music, they turn it to trash
They fk you right up in the ass, (boy)
They fk you right up in the ass
And I hate the sound, that slicksoley sound, put it six feet underground, put that shit deep underground (I'm warnin' ya)

10 years from now, the old singer's will be dead in their graves
Who's gonna carry on that old time sound Not those fkers you hear on

Radio Country, that sodomizin' beast
Radio Country's been killin' me

They don't play Hank Williams or Old Johnny Cash, they fked him right up in the ass (yes they did)
They fked him right up in the ass (I'll tell ya)

That bullshit they play, it all sounds the same, 'cause the singers sing whatever they're told cocksuckers got no minds of their own

10 years from now, the old singer's will be dead in their graves
Who's gonna carry on that old time sound
Not those fkers you hear on that radio

Things are bound to get better Someday you'll be happy
You're gonna find true love, and start up a family

Bullshit, fking bullshit and nothing aint never gonna get no better no how

You gotta look on the bright side take a walk in the sunshine the Lord is on your side and people are good

Bullshit, fking bullshit
and nothing aint never gonna get no better
no how

If it's gonna rain, why don't it fkin' rain?
If you gonna leave me darlin' go and leave I'm tired of livin' for nothing I'm tired of longin' for somethin' Dead dogs in trash cans Man it's all I can find

Bullshit, fking bullshit
and nothing aint never gonna get no better
no how

If it's gonna rain, why don't it fkin' rain?

If you gonna leave me darlin' go and leave

Yeah, take a look on the bright side take a look on the bright side
take a look on the bright side
take a look on the bright side
