

Deepest Sun

Thou

There's a sentence, there's a syllable
A point of reference, the ineffable
What man can say no to the weight of the soul while rising?

There's a balance unachieved
There's a prophet unbelieved
What man can say no to the weight of the soul while rising?

One day when the rain falls hard, one day when the wind blows s harp
Once in the deepest moon, we will find you
One breath of deepest sun, disguised in everyone
Once sin is reflecting truth, we will find you
