

Inward

Thou

Descend into the ever-widening
Yawning chasm of black thought
Descend into the voidpit
That spiraling hole of self deification
Escape from the decaying artifice
That illusory sheen, wall of representation
Descend into the ever-widening
Yawning chasm of naked thought
Descend into the voidpit
That spiraling hole of self deification

The secret eye, all-discerning
Alive by the unspeakable oath
Leave behind this useless flesh husk
Escape into that hidden shape-
Incorporeal figure, the slumbering God-form-
In the bottomless well of self affirmation
In the bottomless well of self affirmation

To breathe life into the organ of hope
To breathe life into the organ of hope
To breathe life into the organ of hope

We will cross all of the curse'd boundaries
The lines of sundering, feign'd divisions
We see beyond impenetrable wards
To navigate the fault lines of fractural worlds

Descend into the ever-widening
Yawning chasm, murk of rumination
Descend into the voidpit
That spiraling hole of self deification

And so we descend into the slithering depths
Lit by the luminous torch of measureless thought
Awash in meaningful chaos, rising in meditative glory
Above the grey names and sunken dreams
The feral, crooning paths
Lit by the luminous torch of measureless thought
As we descend into the slithering depths
