

Unfortunate Times

Thou

Unfortunate times have descended upon us
Like wave after wave of the tide
A constant reminder that on the horizon
Is a fate from which we may not hide

Curving rays of once straight light
Ending reign of once dark night
Curving rays of once straight light
Ending reign of once dark night

Unfortunate times have descended upon us
Like rays, endless rays of sunlight
It's a song that is ending, a branch that is bending
From the weight and the age of its design

Curving rays of once straight light
Ending reign of once dark night
Curving rays of once straight light
Ending reign of once dark night

I'm alone right now
And the feeling's gone
It's a curse to know
When you're moving on

I'm alone right now
And the feeling's gone
It's a curse to know
When you're moving on

I'm alone right now
And the feeling's gone
It's a curse to know
When you're moving on
