

All I Have Left To Give

Thousand Below

20-odd years looking for the same heartbeat found in your rapport

I see your eyes gleam and you're happy with him
I'll keep my distance so the light never dims

But tell me I'm not dead, tell me it's okay
Tell me we might've worked on a simpler day
Tell me life goes on, tell me I'll be fine
Say the pain will stop, it'll pass in time

And maybe I'll believe you then
And maybe we can just be friends
And I could tell you about the things I've seen
And you'll never have to suffer all the pain I keep once again

But I'm not sleeping well these days
I've been better if we're being honest
Death is all I see in place of a smile
I can barely stop it

I'm under, it's over, it just won't show
I feel it, it's overloading in my brain I'm sure, I know it
I'll probably speak your name on my last breath just because

It's all that I have left to give
It's all that I have left to give
I'm under, it's over, it just won't show
I feel it, it's overloading in my brain I'm sure, I know it
I'll probably speak your name on my last breath just because

So tell me I'm not dead, tell me it's okay
Tell me we might've worked on a simpler day
Tell me life goes on, tell me I'll be fine
And you could take my breath

It's all that I have left to give
It's all that I have left to give
I'm under, it's over, it just won't show
I feel it, it's overloading in my brain I'm sure, I know it
I'll probably speak your name on my last breath just because
