

No hope, no sign
Fading I feel it by the hour
You changed your mind
No time to get a little louder like

Lately there's been a lot to run away from
It's taking time now to bury all the pain from you
And I just can't see
How to get home from the way that you took me through
I've been caught in a spiral
Counting the people I'm losing in my world
I never thought I'd be just a tack on the wall
I never thought we'd go from a run to a crawl

No hope, no sign
You changed your mind
No hope, no sign

So why'd you have to go and just vanish away from me?
Now I see you in my sleep
I feel shadows and figures, and I hear the whispers
But now I see you in my sleep

I feel shadows and figures
And I swear I hear the whispers
But what's it gonna take for you
What's it gonna take just to get a little closer now
Just to get a little closer now

No hope, no sign
Fading I feel it by the hour
You changed your mind

So why'd you have to go and just vanish away from me?
Now I see you in my sleep
I feel shadows and figures, and I hear the whispers
But now I see you in my sleep

Vanish away from me
Vanish away from me
