

Venenoza

Thousand Below

Dripping down your lips, proof you're venomous
I know I make you feel at home in severance

So go and make your mistake this time
Pray you're not wasting your time
I know you hate to hear my name from somebody else's mouth
And your teeth won't just let go
Love has become a distant echo in both of our lives
You've tasted me twice, you're twisting your knife, just say it

Tell me why you love it when I break
I can't ignore how you're salivating at my flaws you adore
I see your shape and the shadow within
I've got to know that you're keeping close cause I love the way
you
Love the way you sin

I love the way you feign, love the way you echo
Coming back like colder seasons, bloody reasons
Keep you here in my view, but never in my vision
You're so precise when you move at night, so make your last incision

Kill
You'll kill me but you won't claim me now
Will
You poison, play me, or save me now?
Siphon, hide the evidence
Torture I adore
Eyes that bleed malevolence
Leave me craving more

Dripping down your lips
You only love me when I break
I can't ignore how you're salivating at my flaws you adore
I see your shape and the shadow within
I've got to know that you're keeping close cause I love the way
you
Love the way you sin

I can't ignore how you're salivating at my flaws you adore
I see your shape and the shadow within
I've got to know that you'll keep me close
