

Death Before Dishonor

Threat Signal

I pray for the end
The end of this nightmare that I'm living in
I've lost all control
My mind has deceived me but I can't let go

And if the ashes of the flames
Could shadow eyes of hate
Our race might repent
The revelation could wash all the blood away

I've watched them die
I've watched them live inside this lie
I've seen the blood and ignorance
I've seen death of innocence

Break all the trust that we have made
Kill all the hope inside of me
Burn in this hell that you've made out of greed
Drown in the blood of deceit
Why believe that we could change?

See through the fallacy
It's all what you believe
Our retribution lives in the flesh
We kill our own disease
See through the tyranny
They made us fucking believe
Our reprisal lives flesh
We kill our own disease

We live undead
We can't forget the past
We are not blind
We will revive
We are not dead
We are not blind
