

(Intro)

Pleased to meet you now.
I've been away for far too long.
Life has taken a round,
and I can see what you want me for.
(I've been running away)
And nothing here is the same,
I'm feeling something that you don't understand in me.
And all this pulling away,
makes me feel something less than alive.

I've been taken by all ,
lost in the way we live,
lost in the way we live.
Non-stop hitting the wall,
I feel lost in the way we lived, this time.

Suddenly don't belong,
I've been so vicious 'til now,
the way that you are.
God,
you gotta give me something,
love went away for nothing.
Give me the reason, to wait so long.
And now there's nothing to say,
because I'm feeling something you never saw in me anyway.
And every move we make,
makes me feel something less than alive.
(something less than alive)

I've been taken by all ,
lost in the way we live,
lost in the way we live.
Non-stop hitting the wall,
I feel lost in the way we lived, this time.

(Solo)

I've been taken by all ,
lost in the way we live,
lost in the way we live.
Non-stop hitting the wall,
I feel lost in the way we lived, this time.
This time (this time).
This time (this time).
(we're lost in the way we live)
And now there's nothing to say,
lost in the way we live.
