

Doubt

Through Fire

I've let you drag me down
You've turned me inside out
I might bend, but I won't break
I won't lie down and die this way
I won't give up without a fight
Just when everything is going right
You keep telling me what I'm never gonna be
But I, I'm not listening, and I won't believe your lies
Not this time

You're the voice in my head when I'm at my weakest
You're the ache in my chest and I hate to feel this
Hey doubt, there's no doubt, I need to prove you wrong
You're dead to me now, I'm done living with this doubt

Hey doubt, you're back again
Just when I thought I was over it
You show your face, I know it well
You're turning me against myself
You place your hands around my neck
And now I feel you stealing every breath
As you're telling me what I'm never gonna be
But in the end, you'd be nothing more than a memory in time
When I say goodbye

You're the voice in my head when I'm at my weakest
You're the ache in my chest and I hate to feel this
Hey doubt, hey doubt, I'm gonna prove you wrong
Hold on, hold on, I've listened for too long
You're dead to me now, I'm done living with this doubt

I'm not giving in, won't let you in
Gonna push you out
I'm not giving in, won't let you in
It's over now

You're the voice in my head when I'm at my weakest
You're the ache in my chest and I hate to feel this
Hey doubt, hey doubt, I'm gonna prove you wrong
Hold on, hold on, I've listened for too long
You're dead to me now, I'm done living with this doubt
I'm done living with this doubt
I'm done living with this
I'm done living with this
I'm done living with this
You're dead to me now, I'm done living with this doubt
