

There's No Escape

Throw The Fight

I taste the bitterness inside your veins
It grows like cancer and there's no escape
Your days are numbered and your looks are gone
No drug can save you from the path you're on
Fight, fight, fight
Save yourself
I'll rescue you when the hurricane comes
Your nightmares alive and it burns in your lungs
I'll pick you up when the storms are too much
The pain in your eyes shows your fall from the sky
You sell your soul to everyone who shares
A piece of heaven and a ride to hell
A dark motel room and a stranger's touch
The broken prom queen that gets paid to love
I'll rescue you when the hurricane comes
Your nightmares alive and it burns in your lungs
I'll pick you up when the storms are too much
The pain in your eyes shows your fall from the sky
Save yourself
Save yourself
Save yourself
There's no escape
Fight, fight, fight
Save yourself
I'll rescue you when the hurricane comes
Your nightmares alive and it burns in your lungs
I'll pick you up when the storms are too much
The pain in your eyes shows your fall from the sky
Save yourself
Save yourself
Save yourself
There's no escape
