

Untouchables

Throw The Fight

Did I fool myself again
Do they see through this master plan
I fought my heart all night long
The untouchables
The focus of this song (of this song)
To find the proper words for them
Impossible
You'll never hear a phrase come from my mouth
I can't just walk away
Say anything

Now I see
The words I should have said
To tell you how I feel
And now I see
The words I should have said
Walk away instead

I thought
You might be the one who
Wouldn't feel ashamed
To show me the real you
Except the thoughts
And empty feelings
All that I found
Was you less appealing

I've got the proper words for them
The way you act
Is coming back
To haunt you in the end
I can't just walk away again
Say anything

Now I see
The words I should have said
To tell you how I feel
And now I see
The words I should have said
Walk away again

Don't act so surprised (so surprised)
Let's have a look at what you left behind
Thought the pool of broken hearts
Never really had a chance
I thought that nothing of my life
Now it's time to take it back
Now its time to try to stand
Doing nothing by the half
Now I'll take it back again
It wasn't really yours

And now I see (now)
The words I should have said (should have said)
To tell you how I feel when you look through me
And now I see
The words I should have said

To tell you how I feel
And now I see
The words I should have said
Walk away instead