We Will Rise

Throwdown

Can we rise? We will rise We will rise above the lies and move on We are the hated, we are the raging plague We are the ill-fated, we grow stronger each day And we rise We've built a new world Underneath the one we hate Outside there is no love But down here we're one And we'll rise above Can we rise? We will rise We will rise above the lies and move on We are the hated, we are the youth betrayed We are the ill-fated, we struggle each day And we rise This is a new blood, this is a family The voice of the unloved We will rise as one, and we'll rise above Can we rise? We will rise We will rise above the lies and move on
