You don't care to check your facts
Before going on the attack
Just take everything
Burn me at the stake for not being perfect
I'll be the black sheep
I mean, if it is between that or being a pussy
Whatever makes you happy
You do you, it's your truth and narrative

Can do no wrong
Got my name in your mouth and can't control what's coming out
On the moral high ground
So keep on spitting lies and kicking me when I'm down

'Cause I know you love to be the judge
And wouldn't miss the chance to make my life worse, right?
Base your belief on your own dislike
Must be convenient to see things in black-and-white

Got my name in your mouth and can't control what's coming out
You have done more than enough, so man, shut the fuck up

You won't let go
You have done more than enough, goddamn, what a fucking joke

'Cause I know you love to be the judge
And wouldn't miss the chance to make my life worse, right?
You're acting out of spite, you can't hide your own dislike
So why should I care about anything that I know is a fucking lie?

Yeah, why should I give a shit 'bout what's been said by a hypocrite?
Got no real reason to hate me so get off my dick
