

A Dying Wish

Thulcandra

In eternal darkness, right into the night
Your spirit has fainted, you were gone from here
We call for relief, no place for grief
In mourning we shall rise, nothing but mere lies

Farewell, until the last of us will dwell
Farewell, we will meet in heaven or hell

Forever emptiness, soaked in bitterness
Your light has lapsed, and you left us here
We share our scars, and memories
A fateful journey, we dignify in pain

Farewell, until the last of us will dwell
Farewell, we will meet in heaven or hell
