

Save Me

Thundamentals

It's the middle of the night and yeah I'm all alone
So I hit you on your line
Leave a message at the tone
Saying I don't wanna wait until you're out the door
To tell you that I love you and you're beautiful
You should know

I been sinking in my own head lately
Sorry that I keep you waiting
Emotional train wreck baby

Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself

I don't know much about much about anything
The little I do I hold close like a wedding ring
Is everything that I am crammed in this shell I'm in?
Every element
Trapped in my skeleton
Homie I am what I am but I guess that's irrelevant so
Maybe you can tell me what the hell to think
Ok but then what
I thought you had all the answers
You just sold me a cradle
And held my baby to ransom
Do gooders wanna be angels
I keep watch with my demons
And the gods that we pray to
'Cause they're all one and the same thing
So tell me what the hell to think

I been sinking in my own head lately
Sorry that I keep you waiting
Emotional train wreck baby

Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself

You ask if I'm ok
I been going through hell
Ain't no one to blame no
I do it to myself
You wish I could change
I just wish you well
I can keep your secrets
Won't ever kiss and tell
I'm my own worst enemy
Self-medication
Mix up a remedy
Pour out a Hennessy
I wonder if you gone remember me
Memory loss
Damn it I guess I forgot

What it was
So I'm penning this song
Forever been fuckin' it up
It's never enough
I'm sorry for getting it wrong
I been sinking in my own head lately
Sorry that I keep you waiting
Emotional train wreck baby

Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
Come and save me from myself
