

Firebird

Thunder

I wanted you so much
I wanted you so bad
More than anything
Couldn't get you outta my head
Couldn't get you outta my heart
You were everything

Over mountains and raging seas
Until I found you
And now I'm on my knees

'Cause the truth fell as your wings unfurled
With your firebird

I nearly lost my mind
I nearly lost my soul
Tryin' to make you mine
In the chaos that remains
I've got to find a path
Back into my life

When you don't know what you're wishing for
You can wind up with a whole lot more
Every warning that I ever heard
Every single word
Said beware the firebird

The firebird
Yeah yeah yeah

I've been burned down
By my own desire
And left alone here
To wallow in the mire

'Cause the truth fell as your wings unfurled
Don't believe a word
No don't believe a word
She'll tear apart your world
Like a firebird

You keep bringing me bad luck
You're bringing me bad bad luck
Then you fly away

Yeah!

The firebird
Bringing me bad bad luck
