

The Fires That Roar

Thunder

You got a nick within
You got a thirst for sin
You'll never let it be, don't lie to me
I know where you've been
The hair shit bites
You feed your appetite
You love it when it's wrong, love it when it's dark
Turn out the lights

Sucked into it, gonna do it
Gotta feed the flame

Until the buzz gets bigger than the time before
Can't stop till you hit the rush you're looking for
No chance putting out the fires that roar no more
No more

You can't scratch that itch
You're never satisfied
The pleasure never lasts, it's over fast
But you still gotta try

You take another chance
No fear of consequence
You're out on a limb, where the light is dim
Chasing a high

Conflicted, addicted
You're in love with the pain

You take it one notch higher on your bedroom door
Strapped and tied until your hands and knees they roar
No chance putting out the fires that roar no more
No more

There were times you tried to resist somehow, yeah
No denying it, no point in fighting it now

You get a buzz much bigger than the time before
Can't stop till you feel the rush you're looking for
No chance putting out the fires that roar no more
You take it one notch higher on your bedroom door
Strapped and tied until your hands and knees they roar
No chance putting out the fires that roar no more
No more
No more
No more
