

You were young and full of life
Loved the danger, braved the night
You could dream a day
A song could make you cry

Now you weigh the words you say
Grow more tired day by day
You accept the rules
You know you cannot fly

Do you dare
To cross the line
You and I, we're like wine
As the years go by not all turn sour

Raise your voice and reach the sky
Relight the fuse and join the fight
We will defy the tides of time
Fly though the night with force sublime

Wake up call, it's time to rise
Case aside your old disguise
Dare to live and die
Ignite the spark of youth

Inhibitions down the drain
Leave your cage and break the chain
Fee the flames within
Set sail to find your truth

Come on now
Cross the line
We will be like good wine
As the years we won't turn sour
