

Wounds

Thunderstone

In the darkest night I call out your name
What I have done, it's not a game
The feeling is gone, I just can't deny
That is why I have to say goodbye

You have to understand what I have done
Deep in my heart there's only one
I'm not the same man anymore
It's hurting me down to my core

Set me free, let me go on my way
I have to make this journey on my own
Let me go, I will always be free
Time will be the only cure for my wounds

As the days go by, and you get older
Time will tell if you need a shoulder
Now walk your own way, head up high
Make sure you don't let your life pass by

Set me free, let me go on my way
I have to make this journey on my own
Let me go, I will always be free
Time will be the only cure for my wounds
