

Inner Voices

Thurisaz

Narrowed down the voices in my head
To those who speak in silence
'Cause all the others loudly shouting out
Resorts in utter violence

Feels like a storm is gathering inside my chest
Because of all your silence
How can you do what you have done
With such a childlike innocence?

Seems like it's just me who never knew
What you were hiding
So what am I to do with all those hopes
Life seems so very frightening

Feels like I'm draining myself inside
Oblivious and silent
Shuffling feet come slowly towards me
Deadly and defiant