

Monologue

Thurisaz

Matter is essential
Life is consequential
Man's gods align central
In the weariness of his mind
Behold the perfect kind
(Behold)

I am the dark, that whispers through the solid ground
I'm deep within, a silence turns in a rumbling sound
I am the lord that guides you to the end of light
Now let's begin, I'll show you the way inside
I'll show you how you died

I am your darkest fear
Nowhere to go
There's nothing more, nothing to do
I am the dark that holds your light
I am the spellbound, that keeps you cold at night

And I am the dark
That forever holds your light
Spellbound by
The blackness of the night

And I am the dark
That forever holds your light
Spellbound by
The blackness of the night

And I am the dark
That forever holds your light
Spellbound by
The blackness of the night

The night is bright (and I am dark)
May your light forever shine (that forever holds your light)
The night is bright (spellbound by)
May your light forever shine (the blackness of the night)

The night is bright (and I am dark)
May your light forever shine (that forever holds your light)
The night is bright (spellbound by)
May your light forever shine (the blackness of the night)

The night is bright (and I am dark)
May your light forever shine (that forever holds your light)
The night is bright (spellbound by)
May your light forever shine (the darkness of the night)