

My Precious Unknown

Thurisaz

The growing of life
The change I could feel
The hope for a turning
Not yet to reveal

The power of life
Is within my reach
Softly awakening
A newborn
Not for me to see

Anxiously waiting
For the big day
Anticipating your coming

Fulfilling our dreams
We try to pretend
Our minds are preset
To a happy end

Life will never be the same
Hope's taken from me
Reliving the moment
That came to be

But now there's a pain
Where my heart used to be
A million blank pages
Are staring
Right back here at me

All I ever had is fading
Like a leaf drawn to the ground
Still I feel my heart is yearning
Since that day

Since that day of hope and despair
I knew life would never be the same
All the aching all the pain
Come stay with me
Someone please help me
Why don't you stay with me?
