

When friend and enemy consolidate covenants are broken Treachery erases all, if it ever was A deception that wrecked the idols, layed cities waste and brought sanctuaries to desolation Isolation found it's offering and consumed all abundant and old With a nucleus burnt our fate is forseen
The sufferer fell with fiends and altered amongst shades He became his own people

Isolation - the breaking of bonds, a distant beckoning
Salvation - the womb of rebirth, foul and sickening

The antagonist needs not yeld nor answer or follow Yet them of abhor became his rulers
By emnity forced to embrace plauges and pestilence Forced to walk in contrary to heralds

The cure should be simple, find the core and smoke it out

Seek the heart and putrid flesh shall preach no more When the bridge collapsed upon your sons and daughters Whatever awaits is welcomed with open arms

Isolation - the breaking of bonds, a distant beckoning
Salvation - the womb of rebirth, foul and sickening.
