

The Young And The Restless

Tide Lines

We've all got our own faded memories
Of our bygone hopes and our fears
From the fields of our youth in the springtime
To the summers that lasted for years

And I often recall without reason
White sands and a cloudless sky
And whenever I see the horizon
I recapture those days in my eye

When we promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest of our lives
We'd promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest off our lives
The rest of our lives

In a world devoid of emotion
When a dream is a dwindling spark
When the sunset fell into the ocean
I would hold her for hours in the dark

Now time is a dangerous enemy
And its always the same song I sing
From a head full of meaningless
Memories and a heart that's held by a string

When we promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest of our lives
We'd promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest off our lives

We promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest of our lives
We'd promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest off our lives
The rest of our lives

Take my hand and we'll toil this land
And we'll soon return to those shores
Take my hand and we'll toil this land
And we'll soon return to those shores

Take my hand and we'll toil this land
And we'll soon return to those shores
Oh take my hand and we'll toil this land
And we'll soon return to those shores

We promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest of our lives
We'd promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest off our lives

We promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest of our lives
We'd promised we'd run with the reckless, the young
And the restless we'd run for the rest off our lives
The rest of our lives
