

For You To Say

Tiffany

When I was yours you couldn't choose the way
And I still waited, maybe you're decision might change
Now I was hoping someday you would learn to be brave
While you're thinking that our love would still feel the same

For you to say you love me
Doesn't mean a thing
For you to say you want me
Makes my heart feel pain
For you to say you need me
Doesn't mean a damn
That's all in the past
That's not where I live

Being alone has changed you, baby you're a little too late
I know you're lost without me but I can't be a part of your sha me
To let you walking out would make my life a lie
I know you thought you could break me but there's nothing left
to make me cry

For you to say you love
Doesn't mean a thing
For you to say you want me
Makes my heart feel pain
For you to say you need me
Doesn't mean a damn
That's all in the past
That's not where I live

To let you walking out would make my life a lie
to make me cry
