

Manhattan Kiss (Just Another Dream)

Tiffany

Don't disturb
At least not for this precious moment
Please hold me near
Behind the doors we've closed forever

Here at last
I look into your eyes and it's so plain to see
The love you have inside for me, so...

Tell me why, why should I be feeling lonely
How could I be feeling lonely
When a brand new day is dawning?

Just another dream
And there's nothing when it's over
Now it's time for you to go
Don't you know that my heart is going with you,

Just another dream
For there's someone else who loves you
Loves you even more than me
Waiting for your return so she can hold you

Love just passes by
And for me it always seems
It's just another dream

All alone
I look down on the city streets
I'm waving goodbye although I know you'd never notice

Could it be?
I do believe that I can see an angel there
Whose tears are falling just like mine, oh

Tell me why
When you know how much I need you
And you know I'd never leave you
But until you say you love me

Just another dream
And there's nothing when it's over
Now it's time for you to go
Don't you know that my heart is going with you,

Just another dream
For there's someone else who loves you
Loves you even more than me
Waiting for your return so he can hold you

Love just passes by
And for me it always seems
It's just another dream

Tell me why
Other promise me forever
But I know I'll love them never

Not the way I'll always love you

Just another dream
How I sometimes wish for yesterday
The day before we met
When my heart believed in everything

Just another dream
Maybe someday we'll look back
Upon this New York city night
And the promise of a sweet and tender kiss

A new day has begun
Keep a memory inside your heart, but promise me

Till I hear you say you love me
Promise me
