

Starting Over

Tiffany

I wish that I would just be free
From the loneliness in me
I wish I would turn and run
And I'd come all undone

And I know that there's a place
Somewhere I belong
And I know that holdin' on
Just hurts and makes you numb

There's no home, there is no place
Where I don't see your face
Thanks you left me torn apart
And breathin' with no heart

And I know that there's a place
Somewhere I belong
And I know that holdin' on
Just hurts and makes you numb

The tears fade from my eyes
But I still see your smile
Left standin' in the shame
Starting over every day

And in my mind I'm alone
No soul, just flesh and bone
Thanks, you tore my world apart
Left dyin' in the dark

And I know that there's a place
Somewhere I belong
And I know that holdin' on
Just hurts and makes you numb

The tears fade from my eyes
But I still see your smile
Starting over every day

The tears fade from my eyes
Starting over every day

And I know that there's a place
Somewhere I belong
And I know that holdin' on

Starting over
