Unseen to the eyes but ablaze in your heart

It scorches from inside just as it haunts

It is unknown to young lovers intoxicated by spring

But when they feel its icy flames they'll know everything

It lives where love has died, this ghostfire Where poison flowers bloom
It sears from beyond sighs
In the graveyard of promises
It burns right throught the night

Only a lover lost burns in ghostfire (Ghostfire)

Lovers sprurned took their revenge, lie in cells tonight Once consumed they turn to ash in its cold blue light Those who can't take the pain They extinguish the spark of life For others it comforts, a companion in the night

It lives where love has died, this ghostfire Where poison flowers bloom
It sears from beyond sighs
In the graveyard of promises
It burns right throught the night

Only a lover lost burns in ghostfire
Only a lover lost burns in ghostfire
Only a lover lost burns in ghostfire (Ghostfire)