Tiles

Stand back and watch - order falls in place
Left by the wasteside - misled in our haste
Following leaders - but they should follow behind us
Bearing the clout - casting more doubt
Drowning in water too shadow

Nip at your heels - they gnaw at the rope
Hung by a thread - left without hope
Look up and focus - gamble and risk your routine ways
Turning the gear - time drawing near
Embrace the plain we face our fear

Time consumes time
Quick to grasp - too tough to find
Time consumes me
Like dancing dogs too quick to see

Racing full speed - cliffs looming ahead
Pushing and pulling - backwards we tread
Calling the names - Beads of sweat forming on my face
Blurring our sight - jaws locking tight
Memories fade to brave the fight

Time consumes time
Quick to grasp - too tough to find
Time consumes me
Like dancing dogs too quick to see
Time consumes time
As thoughts race through my mind
Time consumes the doubts we believe
Like dancing dogs too quick to see

There's no harvest where nothing is planted
There's no reason this road of success
You must argue what's taken for granted
To the last

Time consumes time
Quick to grasp - too tough to find
Time consumes me
Like dancing dogs too quick to see
Time consumes time
As thoughts race through my mind
Time consumes the doubts we believe
Like dancing dogs too quick to see
