

All I Ever Do

Tilian

Tell your heart to stop believing
I'm just a poison in your veins
I only want you for the evening
Just for now to numb the pain

Who are you?
Who am I?
Why do you love me, when all I ever do is make you cry?

I hate myself for what I'm doing
Say you don't mind, but that's a lie
I send you home before the morning
And see the hope in your eyes die

Who are you?
Who am I?
Why do you love me, when all I ever do is make you cry?

All we are is strangers in a foreign romance
Your love is stolen to fix this hole, fix this hole
If I'm honest, don't regret a single moment
Heal me til' it's forgotten
Forgotten

Pretend the pain we feel is nothing
Pretend that everything is right
And if you want to believe something
I can lie to you all night

Who are you?
Who am I?
Why do you love me, when all I ever do is make you cry?
When all I ever do is make you cry
