

Falling Out Of Rhythm

Tilian

O, what a holy twisted mess
With your eyes lookin' like this
Do you wanna take a shot at my confidence
No? the way you didn't flinch
Did you calculate the risk
When you put out a hit on my pulse like this

I'd give you the world if you'd have it
And you could look back like its magic
For my next trick I'ma pull your heart from a black hat like a rabbit
I give you my word if you'll have it
Never forget that you had it
For my next trick find a song in your heart beat beating against

These tones leave me oh, so cold and without a clue
And I hear the notes, but I'm drowning out these tones
And its in your soul, I'm without a clue
When you need me most, I'm falling out of rhythm...

I was trying to forget you
I think I forgot that too
Casanova why you so lonely
And baby, why you kicking it so holy
You trying to forget me? you tryin' to breathe?
Close your eyes don't you fight it
Baby, why you kicking it so quiet, so quiet

I'd give you the world if you'd have it
And you could look back like its magic
For my next trick I'ma pull your heart from a black hat like a rabbit
I give you my word if you'll have it
Never forget that you had it
For my next trick find a song in your heart beat beating against

These tones leave me oh, so cold and without a clue
And I hear the notes, but I'm drowning out these tones
And its in your soul, I'm without a clue
When you need me most, I'm falling out of rhythm...
