

It's a slow ride
And it's a long way down
We'll keep you up nights
But we'll find a way somehow

Follow me now we're going down
Faster
Pulling you down out of your cloud
Harder
Breaking you down out of your shell
Stronger now

I feel the motor in you, if you'd just let it go
I'd bear this burden with you, if you'd just let me know
I know you see the monster trapped deep inside of you
I'd bear that burden with you

You've got your hands tied
Your bridge is upside down
A couple more miles
And we'll get away somehow

Follow me now we're going down
Faster
Pulling you down out of your cloud
Harder
Breaking you down out of your shell
Stronger now

I feel the motor in you, if you'd just let it go
I'd bear this burden with you, if you'd just let me know
I know you see the monster trapped deep inside of you
I'd bear that burden with you

I know they'll talk about you, the fallen angel
They'll point their finger at you, and make up new labels
When life gets tough to pull through, I'll pull it for you
I'll bear that burden with you

You're the only reason I built myself up
You're the only reason I built myself up
(Follow me now we're going down)
You're the only reason I built myself up
(Pulling you down out of your cloud)
You're the only reason I built myself up
(Breaking you down out of your shell)
You're the only reason I built myself up
Stronger now

I feel the motor in you, if you'd just let it go
I'd bear this burden with you, if you'd just let me know
I know you see the monster trapped deep inside of you
I'd bear that burden with you

I know they'll talk about you, the fallen angel
They'll point their finger at you, and make up new labels
When life gets tough to pull through, I'll pull it for you

I'll bear that burden with you
