

Future Friends

Tilian

I've been rolling with tides
Praying you would know my name
You've been dancing in the moonlight
Running through the pouring rain
We're not the same at all

To the kid that defeats every seed of a demon inside in his soul
To the man that can stand anywhere in the world and build up his home
To the beaten father that never slips on soap and water
Temptation in clean sight and he sees his daughter
To every road and every goal
And every moment spent on pure devotion
This song's for you
Wish I could be more like you

Slow down
Give me a reason not to slow down
I can feel the bottle and it's cold now
I'm on the outside looking in
So I'm calling on my future friends

Call call call call
Call call call call call
Call call call call
Calling on my future friends
Call call call call
Call call call call call
Call call call call
Calling on my future friends

I've been waiting inside
Nothing seems to calm my brain
Or numb the pain
Plus I never learned how to dive
Never really cared for rain
(But I feel a change coming)

To the kid that defeats every seed of a demon inside in his soul
To the man that can stand anywhere in the world and build up his home
To the beaten father that never slips on soap and water
Temptation in clean sight and he sees his daughter
To every road and every goal
And every moment spent on pure devotion
This song's for you
Wish I could be more like you

Slow down
Give me a reason not to slow down
I can feel the bottle and it's cold now
I'm on the outside looking in
So I'm calling on my future friends

Call call call call
Call call call call call
Call call call call
Calling on my future friends
Call call call call

Call call call call call
Call call call call
Calling on my future friends

Call call call call
Calling on my future friends
