

Perfect Lie

Tilian

Can't decide what's right
I've been up all night
Lying in your bed
Searching through my head

For a piece of sanity to latch on
A point of clarity to think back on
I have never felt this way before

Gave myself to you
Hoping you would never know the truth
Now, all I want is you
I can't go on lying here forever

I should run and hide
I could play both sides
To get into your bed again
And lose all of my friends

I need a piece of sanity to latch on
A point of clarity to think back on
I have never felt this way before

Gave myself to you
Hoping you would never know the truth
Now, all I want is you
I can't go on lying here forever

Take me to your bed
Girl you mess with my head
We should keep in touch all night

Don't care what people say
So show games they all play
Trust me it will be alright

Throwing away my perfect lie

Can't decide what's right
I've been up all night

Gave myself to you
Hoping you would never know the truth
Now, all I want is you
I can't go on lying here forever
I can't go on lying here forever
