

VERTIGO

Tilian

Anchor

Can't find it in your anger

Miles away from balance, your malice is killing my symmetry

The way your demons flow gives me vertigo

But I can't find the means to fall asleep without you now

Helpless vertigo, and you got me on the ropes

So hard to breathe without you

I can't find my feet, I'm falling down

Save her

These walls are made of paper

She's taping up a picture of vindication and naivety

The way your demons flow gives me vertigo

But I can't find the means to fall asleep without you now

Helpless vertigo, and you got me on the ropes

So hard to breathe without you

I can't find my feet, I'm falling down

The way your demons flow gives me vertigo

But I can't find the means to fall asleep without you now

Helpless vertigo, and you got me on the ropes

So hard to breathe without you

I can't find my feet, I'm falling down

Feeling my harmony decay

Caught in your vortex, watch me sway

Know that whenever you berate me, I will stay

But half-awake