

Attractive

Tim Atlas

I find you so attractive
No encrypted message
I just want you to be
Sleeping right next to me

I find you so attractive
No encrypted message
I just want you to be
Sleeping right next to me

Am I being too much, too much
Your stuff is everywhere
And all I find are strands of you
In every room
I wanna think that some day
Gold locks
No strays
Are regular weeknights in the honeymoon phase

I find you so attractive
No encrypted message
I just want you to be
Sleeping right next to me

I find you so attractive
No encrypted message
I just want you to be
Sleeping right next to me

I know you got good taste
I notice you're up when the world is down
I love you from your waist to your mind, your mind
Don't seem to get phased
The universe will collide and fade
Nothing is constant, but I'd debate
If you stick around, if you stick around

I find you so attractive
No encrypted message
I just want you to be
Sleeping right next to me

I find you so attractive
No encrypted message
I just want you to be
Sleeping right next to me
