

Lighthouse

Tim Atlas

Lookin' out
Sun in my eyes
Docked on the west side
Runnin' out of space and time
No sense of my design
I'm reeling in
All my friends advice
But I don't wanna give you up

Cause I don't know what's left of me
When I'm hypnotized by faces in frames
I'll hold onto anything
After all we've been through

If I don't see you one last time
My conscience keeps your voice in mine
When I can't feel the sunshine
You'll always be a
Lighthouse in my mind

You'll always be
Shining on me
Lighthouse in my mind
You'll always be
Shining on me
You'll always be

Waking up
Sand in my shoes
Soaked in the moonlight
Staring back at myself
I'm reflecting off the tide
I feel you now
Everything's alright
But I don't wanna give you up

Cause I don't know what's left of me
When I'm hypnotized by faces in frames
I'll hold onto anything
After all we've been through

If I don't see you one last time
My conscience keeps your voice in mine
When I can't feel the sunshine
You'll always be a
Lighthouse in my mind

You'll always be
Shining on me
Lighthouse in my mind
You'll always be
Shining on me

We could leave with the dust
And do it with love
Embrace how we pushed and pulled between us

The salt in my eyes
Doesn't define how I describe you

If I don't see you one last time
My conscience keeps your voice in mine
You'll always be a

You'll always be
Shining on me
You'll always be
